

Joining forces to inspire and inform aspiring writers and artists.

This group of successful writers and artists have teamed up to educate, inform and encourage the creative young.

The Inscribables have pulled together all of their tools and wisdom in an effort to help young aspiring writers and artists build on their talents and develop their skills—for fun, seeking employment or wishing to be published.

In addition to maintaining a website filled with useful information and helpful tips, the team occasionally assembles to present groups of young people with panels and workshops designed to help them hone their craft or trade.

Topics include:

The Writing Process—plotting, characterization, setting, POV, dialogue, conflict, and research & revision.

The Path to Publication—writing & illustration, the creative process, editing & self-publishing, organizations & mentors, working with an agent, and pitching to an agent/editor.

Visual Inspiration—using visuals to inspire your story.

Getting Started—storyboards, character lists, outlines and more.

For more information, visit the Inscribable's website at inscribables.grimtrojan.com.

The future of art and literature is in the hands of the young. We should do everything within our power to help them succeed.

Carrie Dalby (Word Rocker)
www.carriedalby.com

Joyce Scarbrough (Masked Grammarian)
www.joycescarbrough.com

Candice Marley Conner (Saltwater Scribe)
candicemarleyconner.wordpress.com

Lee Ann Ward (Penning Pixie)
www.leeannward.com

Steven Moore (Mr. Illustrator)
www.grimtrojan.com